ROADMAP TO RESILIENCY

Spending quality time with friends or loved ones can just feel good for the soul. Have you ever left a gathering with friends and felt refreshed? Time spent with those that you trust and that care about you is good for everyone. Too much time on your own can make you feel lonely and out of touch so it is important to make an effort to spend time with others. After all, surrounding ourselves with your community and engaging with your connections is one of the ways you can learn and grow.

We know this week will be difficult for some so we want to encourage you to engage with your community and come to our calming and thoughtful activities this week. We don't want anyone to be alone in their resilient journey so come and "Connect, Do, Learn, or Heal" with us.
